- Strength ():
- Constitution (): Adds HP and healing surges, which are always good to have.
- Wisdom (): Makes you stickier, and boosts that all-important Will defense
(the bane of Fighters since, well, forever).
- Dexterity (): Gives you Reflex defense and AC in light armor. The thing is, Fighters can use shields (which boost AC and Reflex) and/or wear heavy armor, reducing their need for it pretty drastically. Two-handed Fighters might want a decent score here, since they don't use shields and therefore their Reflex defense is lower.
- Charisma (): Useless for fighting, and boosts the same defense as Wisdom, BUT it does see some use in your skills (Intimidate being the shining example).
- Intelligence (): Your designated dump stat. Has a redundant function with Dex (except initiative), grants you a bonus to skills you will (hopefully) never have to use.
